

Introduction to the first issue of Saudi Medical Horizons Journal

Dr. Osama A Bawazir¹

Dear colleagues,

I am glad to announce the launch of Saudi Medical Horizons Journal (SMHJ), I would like to welcome my colleagues all over the world, also thank everyone who made contributions to the journal. I proud to present the first issue of the Saudi Medical Horizons Journal.

The SMHJ highly encourage and believe that openness promotes the highest scientific principles, by reading, sharing and contributing to advance science quicker and to benefit community as a whole.

SMHJ will significantly participate in the medical sciences regarding research; and will support in enhancing practices among health care that would in the end result in top patient care and quality of the life. The journal is dedicated to meet the requirements of researchers, for additional publication avenues, and to interchange information and understand a large range of medical and health science subject.

The Saudi Medical Horizons Journal is a peer-reviewed journal publishing high-quality, original research. And make available open access to the articles. Also to benefit the community as a whole.

This journal aims to be interacting and plays a significant role in contributing to enhance patient care and to overcome health concerns.

Each issue includes academic review articles, case reports, original research, health outcomes articles, also basic research to have medical information that is up to date and including the latest techniques and treatment options.

Finally, I should also mention that we are committed to a fast and a rational refereeing process for every piece of scholarship we receive. We endeavor to respond to all papers submitted within acceptable time for an approval or rejection decision. I would like to encourage researchers from various countries to consider SMHJ as a place to present their research, and thanks researchers to keep the open access spirit by participation with SMHJ readers all needful information to increase and reproduce research. We at the (SMHJ) editorial office are grateful that you choose our journal as a place for your research. Please contact the editor at (editor@smh-j.com) if you have any ideas or reviews for other topics you would like to see covered in the article.

Best regards.
